

Who am I?

By Chelsea Oglebay

Who am I?
Am I a flower fading
or a thirsty soul waiting to be filled with God's love?
Am I a child trying to follow Your ways?
Maybe I'm a begger begging for your love, oh Lord.
If I don't know who I am should I give up?
Worries, questions – they can all get the best of me.
But when I find out who I am,
I feel special for I am Christ's child,
made in His image and so are you!
