

The people walking in darkness have seen a great light; on those living in the land of the shadow of death a light has dawned. Isaiah 9:2

Teacher Times

Week Sixteen

Day 72

November 30, 2006

- Tomorrow's schedule

Please be on time at 12:30 in the library for tomorrow's in service. You may continue to eat lunch as we review the reports from the committees, but it essential that we start right on time. We will spend the first hour listening to the rough draft reports from each group and asking questions or making comments. We will spend the last hour in committee doing rewrites.

- Special schedules for Carols at Cornerstone

I will need to "borrow" your students several extra times next week for Carols at Cornerstone rehearsals. This especially applies to second, third, and fourth graders. If you have some "inviolable" times when Dr. Askew must avoid when scheduling your kids, please let him know as soon as possible.

- Love gift expenditures

I still need to hear from you how you have used the CPF love gift to benefit your classroom. Please get this information to me as soon as possible.

- Homework reminders

Please review the homework policies and time limits for your grade in the handbook. There are still parents complaining that some rooms are violating the clear guidelines of the handbook.

- Staff, Christmas party

Please note that revised directions to the Haynes's house have been posted on the bulletin board in the Teacher Work Room.

Learning is hard work. How then, can students be brought to love it? If a teacher is competent and a disciplinarian, he can make the students learn the material. But he cannot impart to them a love for the subject unless he loves it himself. True classical education is a presentation of knowledge adorned by the love of the instructor.
