

With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love.
Ephesians 4:2

Teacher Times

FACILITATING RAPID COMMUNICATION BETWEEN THE HEADMASTER AND THE FACULTY

Week Seven

Day 31

September 27, 2006

- 1-4 music recess

It will normally be my practice to schedule a music sub when I am away, but these are not always easily available. Such is the case with my leave time from September 28- October 4, and I regret that first through fourth grades will not have music on those days.

- Follow the homework policies

Some profitable discussion was generated in Mr. McKinley's CEU class this week concerning homework, as the new teachers were reminded that it is not Cornerstone's practice to use "busy work" for home assignments. Please review the homework policies as stated in the parent/student handbook and contact me when there are questions that need clarifying.

- Enforce the dress code

As Mr. McKinley and I did our scheduled dress code inspections during the third and fourth weeks of school, we received more than a few complaints from parents that "no one had ever told" their child that certain items (logos on shirts and socks, cargo pockets on pants, etc.) were not acceptable. Please read the dress code and enforce it consistently or it causes trouble for everyone who attempts to enforce it.

- Help Mr. McKinley at lunch...

...by watching the playground on your "eat with my class day."

The new lunch terrace is located a good distance from the popular soccer area. Mr. McKinley needs the teacher who is having lunch with her own class in the "cave" each day to be the "adult in charge" when early students (no sooner than fifteen minutes into the lunch period) are dismissed to play. It is impossible for him to supervise both areas at once.

...by extra volunteering while Dr. Askew is gone

The new lunch terrace is impossibly large for one person to supervise effectively. We need one extra teacher each lunch shift to assist Mr. McKinley in supervising while Dr. Askew is gone, September 28-October 4.

"Learn as if you were going to live forever. Live as if you were going to die tomorrow."

John Wooden